

FROM BRICKS TO BELONGING: CULTIVATING SAFE AND SECURE LEARNING ENVIRONMENTS THROUGH UNDERSTANDING, PLANNING, AND REFLECTING.

The Pennsylvania Department of Education Office for Safe Schools, in collaboration with valued partners, is pleased to sponsor a day-and-a-half school safety learning opportunity. The conference agenda was created to provide an engaging opportunity for school and district-level administrative teams to explore aspects of how physical, psychological, and emotional safety work together to create safe, secure, and supportive learning environments for staff and students. The conference will explore opportunities to build and maintain self-care practices, enhance school climate, build staff resiliency, learn from past school safety incidents, explore how to create safe learning environments with intentionality, processes, and practices, and finally provide active engagement through a swatting tabletop exercise. The conference is intended for district-level administrative teams to attend together to work and collaborate around effective manageable responses and practices to a variety of school safety concerns impacting all school entities.
